The Giving Tree is excited to promote a voting contest called Project Innovate that starts today to help HSSD students get internet in their homes. We have one month to get as many votes for Bay Port to win $25,000 from Cellcom, as we are competing other local school districts! How many students in your classroom right now won't have internet access tonight? How many students have struggled to get homework done due to lack of wireless at home? With $25,000 we can ensure all students have home internet access and help close this opportunity gap!

We need you!!!
        -Send this out via Twitter
        -Post on Instagram
        -Post on your Facebook page and share!
        -Put on your school web page and/or classroom newsletter
        -Post a flyer on your door for conferences
        -Put a link in schoology for ages 13+ to vote
        -Tell your friends, family and neighbors
        -Vote! (only one per email address) www.cellcom.com/projectinnovate

Voting is simple. Anyone in any state or country with a valid email address can vote at (insert link here). You will only be allowed to vote once per email address. So getting the word out is very important to getting more votes!

We will be sending out weekly communications until the contest ends on November 20. Each week we will have an update of our standings against the other local school districts. Please help us give all students the availability of home internet access!

It's about children. It's about education. It's about internet access. Vote today!
